Old Beaux.

BEAU FIELDING.

But, dreams, avaunt! let us go back to day-light. One of the foremost idols of the Park in the reign of James II. and Queen Anne was that eccentric man whom Steele so pleasantly immortalized in the Tatler, Beau Fielding, a gentleman of good Warwickshire family, who raised a regiment for James II., and exerted himself in a fashionable way for the dull and bitter bigot who had made him colonel. Beau Fielding appears to have been a man of some wit and of intense vanity, proud and defiant in his eccentricities as became a count of the German Empire, and a soldier (according to his own account) of the most incomparable chivalry. His complexion was fair, his cascade of a wig auburn, his countenance manly, his stature tall, his form of exquisite proportions, as firm and strong as marble. He was Adonis of the day, and eventually married the proud, and not too virtuous Barbara Villiers, daughter and heiress of Lord Viscount Grandison, an Irish nobleman. His first stately proposal to this lady is said to have begun with true humility, thus: "Madame, it is only that nature has made us two the most accomplished of each sex," &c.

The Beau, when nearly fifty, returned from exile as vain and humorous as ever. If we are not mistaken, he especially rejoiced in yellow plumes and remarkable liveries of extraordinary and obtrusive colors. He did not cringe for homage or admiration; he claimed it as a right. He moved a pattern, a model, an ornament—the very Sultan of his sex. He appeared in the Park in an open chariot, so small that it was a mere walnut shell—emblazoned with the imperial spread eagle—the better to display his symmetrical limbs and his commanding figure.

It must be confessed, indeed, that the old Beau's pomp, vanity and grandeur trenched a trifle on the insane. If we can believe The Tatler, Fielding called for tea by beat of drum, and ordered his valet to shave him by trumpet call. His vanity had reached the point of sublimity; his dress and manner grew every day more and more exotic, and he became so old-fashioned that the boys used to collect and shout round his chariot in the streets. The Beau treated their acclamations with a superb indifference. Steele saw him one day harangue a party of Westminster boys, and has recorded the Beau's irresistible exhortation.

"Go to school," he said, "and do not lose your time in following my wheels. I am loth to hurt you, because some of you might be my children. Here, you, sirrah, with the white hair, there is half a crown. Why, you young dog, did you never see a man before?"

"Never such a one as you, noble general!" cried an artful truant from Westminster.

"Sirrah, I believe thee!" cried the Beau, still not impervious to delicate flattery; "there is a crown for thee. Drive on, coachman."

Alas for the old battered beau!—a previous marriage was eventually proved against the old Adonis; and the duchess left him to seek shelter in a garret, and there write bad verses of a gallant nature.

MR. ROMEO COATES.

About 1801, one of the most conspicuous characters in the park was a tall, thin, elderly West Indian, with a sallow wrinkled face, who wrapped up in costly furs, paraded in a shell-shaped carriage drawn by two white horses. The eccentric but handsome vehicle was covered with the owner's heraldic device—a cock crowing. This shallow, insane, yet cunning looking man was that celebrated amateur tragedian, Mr. Romeo Coates. He was supposed incorrectly to be a second Croesus; and he appeared at London balls covered with as many diamonds as Count Esterhazy, who was popularly supposed to drop three hundred pounds worth of them every night he went out. His buttons, even his knee-buckles, glistened with diamonds. Insanely vain and utterly foolish, Romeo Coates appeared on the stage as Shakspeare's youthful lover, first at Bath, and then at the Haymarket. The ridiculous being wore a spangled cloak of sky-blue silk, red pantaloons much too tight, a white muslin vest, an enormous bob'er cravat, a Charles the Second wig and an opera hat. No burlesque was ever half so funny. He bowed to the audience in the most extravagant way and with a hideous grin; he took snuff in the middle of the balcony scene, and on some one asking him for a pinch, handed round his box to the nearest spectators. He dragged Juliet from the tomb as if she were a sack of potatoes. When finally he had to die, he put down his opera hat for a pillow, and swept a place clean with a dirty silk handkerchief. Three times did this extraordinary idiot die for the amusement of the house. This half fool, half cheat, was at last driven from the stage for pocketing money he had obtained under pretence of playing for a charitable object; he retired to Boulogne, and there married some foolish woman, who was probably duped by his pretended wealth.

LORD PETERSHAM.

Lord Petersham was another celebrity of the Park. He was a tall, hadsome, hearty looking man, with a very gracious smile, an affected manner, and a slight lisp. He choose brown as a color (it is said from his once having been in love with a fair widow named Brown,) his carriages were brown, his horses were brown, his livery was brown. The sheives of his favorite room were covered with tin canisters, snuff-boxes and snuff-jars. When some friend one day praised his light blue Sevres snug-box, Lord Petersham said in his dainty tip-toe sort of way: "Yes, it's a nice summer box, but it really would not do for wear." Such was the extravagant foppery, sometimes humorously conscious of itself, that distinguished the gentleman of the regency.—Belgravia for January.

A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune relates this story of Macready when he was playing in Mobile:

"His manner at rehearsal displeased one of the actors, and this person who was cast for the part of Claudius, in 'Hamlet,' resolved to pay off the star. When in the last scene Hamlet stabbed the usurper, he reeled forward, and after a most spasmodic finish, he stretched himself precisely in the place Hamlet required for his own death. Macready, much annoyed, whispered fiercely, 'Die further up the stage, sir.' The monarch lay insensible. Upon which, in a still louder voice, the Hamlet growled, 'Die further up the stage, sir.' Hereupon the Claudius, sitting up, observed, 'I believe I'm king here, and I'll die where I please!' The tragedy concluded shortly after."

"A little nerve is needed in advertising as well as in using any other effective means of success. Your men who have no more nerve than a wet rag, advertise little or not at all. You may suppose that we are giving advice that we think would benefit ourselves. Yes, we do think it would benefit us, but benefit you immensely more. Think a little and you will agree with us. And if you agree with us, be wise enough to act accordingly.—Louisville Journal.

WM. A. HEARNE, JNO. W. DUNHAM,
EDITORS.

Raleigh, Monday, February 10, 1868.

THE preparation for the campaign for the control of our domestic affairs has so completely engrossed our attention, that we have failed to keep pace with the developments of events in the States North of us. While we are making ready to wage an uncompromising war upon radicalism in our own borders, the fight has already begun in the States of New Hamshire and Connecticut. The dangers which threaten our local institutions and customs is so great and so imminent, that we have failed to appreciate the significance and importance of the contest we have mentioned in the New England States, and can scarcely understand the interest manifested by all classes, North, in the result of that contest.

We are most deeply concerned in that result, however, and wait with eagerness for intelligence of its progress, for upon the decision made by the people of these States depend questions intimately connected with our welfare as citizens of the Republic. If New Hampshire and Connecticut shall go Democratic, thus declaring for the Union, the Constitution and the laws, and against Radical usurpations and wrongs, the effect upon the National campaign for the Presidency will be of a highly satisfactory character. It would animate the opponents of the party of misrule and mischief in other States, and be felt for good in the conflict from the Atlantic to the Pacific shore. It would infuse life and vigor into the canvass in our own State, and most happily advance the cause so dear to the heart of every true son of North Carolina. It would produce consternation and confusion in the Radical ranks, dispirit and discourage them, produce discord among their leaders, and mightily assist the Democracy in their efforts to defeat their mad schemes.

These facts are appreciated by both parties, and each is making unusual efforts for the mastery. Radical members of Congress have vacated their seats in the National Councils and have gone to these States to address and arouse their adherents. Money has been freely expended, and will continue to be so expended until the day of the election. The leaders of the Radical cohorts will attempt to disguise or conceal the real questions at issue, thereby hoping to deceive the people into the support of measures which their reasons disapprove. Local prejudices and habits will be appealed to, that they being inflamed, judgment may be dethroned and the people be again led to endorse measures which spring from the lowest and basest feelings of our natures.

Desperate cases require desperate remedies, and the enemies of the Union and the Constitution will resort to every means known to tricksters and knaves to secure a Republican triumph. But they will be right valiantly met and conquered. Doolittle is there, Vorhees is there, Pendleton is there, and hosts of other true-hearted, brave and earnest Democrats; and pleading for truth and justice and generosity—for the sanctity of the constitution and the perpetuity of the government, they will overcome all opposition and cheer the country at the close of their labors, by the announcement of victory honestly and gloriously won.

IN accordance with a resolution, introduced by Col. J. F. Hoke and adopted by the Convention, instructing the President to "appoint five or more persons in each county to make a thorough canvass of the same and disseminate proper political information," the following gentlemen have been appointed canvassers for their respective counties.

The duty they are expected to perform is fully set forth in the resolution under which they are appointed. Upon the zeal, fidelity and thoroughness with which that duty is discharged depends the success of the principles we advocate. We regard this as the most important work determined upon by the Convention. Others may fail or refuse to do their whole duty, and the injury done thereby may not be fatal to our interest. If these gentlemen act otherwise than efficiently, our prospects of sucess are destroyed. They are of the people, and among them—know their wants, their feelings, the opinions they entertain upon the questions before them, and how best to combat those opinions, should they be erroneous. They must, themselves, keep pace with the developments of events, and be ready at all times to attack our enemies in vulnerable points. We exhort them, as they love their homes and are proud of the fame of their State, to be diligent, active and unwearying in their labors.

In those counties for which no appointments have been made, it is necessary that names of persons, willing to act, should be forwarded to R. C. Badger, Esq., Secretary of the Executive Committee. Send on the names, at once, that the organization may be perfected in every county, and the State be thoroughly canvassed before the election.

We append the names of the gentlemen already announced:

(BY OUR SPECIAL REPORTER UNDER THE TABLE.)

[The reader is particularly requested to remember the fact that no Reporter for this paper is allowed on the floor, in the halls or in the galleries of the Convention, and consequently our reports are made from under the table, behind the scenes, or as may be otherwise ordered and convenient.]

[TWENTY-FIRST DAY.]

SATURDAY, Feb. 8th, 1868.

At 10 A. M. Manager Cowles announced the museum open for inspection.

The journal of the previous day was read, compared with the report of the North Carolinian as usual, and corrected accordingly.

Mr. McDonald—the inevitable, irrepressible McDonald, of Chatham—presented a petition in regard to divorces. Referred.

Mr. Abbott, the New Hampshire shaker, presented a communication from W. D. Pearsall, of Duplin, in regard to relief.

Mr. Legg, a "deown East" Legg-acy, presented a communication from the immortal "Coop" Huggins, of Duplin, praying for spiritual relief. ("Coop" complains bitterly to "ye animiles" about the tax assessed on his "pine-top" and "tangle-leg" whiskey by the county court of Duplin.)

The communication was referred.

Mr. Abbott, as chairman of the committee on Privileges, presented a report from that committee favoring the admission of John M. Marshall, the contestant of the seat of Mr. J. G. Marler, delegate from the 7th election district, composed of the counties of Alleghany, Ashe, Surry, Yadkin and Watauga, and requested that the Secretary be instructed to communicate with Gen. Canby and recommend that Marshall be given the seat as the legally elected delegate from that district.

Mr. Abbott presented the following report from the same committee:

The Committee on Privileges and Elections ask leave to withdraw their report of Friday, and to report as follows:

"It appears from the returns that Lorenzo Dow Hall received 357 votes, Randall Hall 114, L. D. 289, Lorenzo D. Hall 60 votes, and Ransom Hall 149 votes, making a majority for all persons voted for in the name of Hall. There were also 54 votes cast which were informal. The Committee are of the opinion that all the votes for Hall were intended for Lorenzo D. Hall, and they, therefore, recommend that he be admitted to his seat in this Convention."

Mr. Forkner, moved that both reports be adopted. Motion carried.

Mr. Williams, of Sampson, rising, said: I did not intend to make any remarks whatever, but after the remarkable discovery of the Committee on Elections, I am forced to say something. From what source the Committee elicited its information is unknown, but from the best information I can get, it appears that old uncle Sam said that he heard that old uncle Virge said he thought that old Uncle Simon said he reckoned all the votes that were cast in Sampson, were cast for one Lorenzo D. Hall, as there was only one Hall in that county, except a minor son of the said Lorenzo D. Hall, but I can make affidavit to twenty-six Halls myself. I do not regret, at all, that my seat is contested, but I do regret exceedingly, that one delegate, on this floor, tried, as I considered it, to hold out inducements to me to yield my seat without a contest, by telling me that I would be sure to get my mileage and per diem up to this time. Now, gentlemen, I am poor; I have had everything taken from me once, except what I had on my back, but poor as I am, before I will yield my seat—a seat conferred on me by the citizens of Sampson—a seat which I hold legally and honestly, I will perish in the street. I intend to contest this thing here, and if not sustained, I intend to contest it all the way to Charleston. If Gen. Canby favors the report of that committee, without there being more evidence than I have heard, I say that he is unfit to be monarch of North Carolina.

[Spoken like a man and a North Carolinian. Mr. Williams' speech was listened to with much attention. Members from all parts of the hall crowded around to hear him. If the report of this committee shall be adopted, our readers shall have the facts. It was intended as a reward for a fellow Radical.]

Mr. Abbott said the report of the committee was not founded on personal prejudices, (a very gratuitous announcement,) and produced the official returns of Gen. Canby, accompanied by a letter from the same. Mr. Abbott again declared (more gratuitous than ever) that he had no personal feelings in the matter, and felt sure that no other member of the committee had.

Mr. Durham, the glorious member from Cleveland, urged the matter Plato-nically, and spoke of the manner in which the Radical members of the Convention were contesting the seats of the Conservatives. He said if the whole matter was fairly and properly investigated, it would be found that many of the Radicals held their places illegally. He said that in a conversation with Gen. Abbott, the Chairman of the Committee, some days ago, that gentlemen had told him the best way to dispose of all such matters was to lay them on the table. He agreed with Gen. Abbott, and after consultation with the Conservative members of the Convention, that body had agreed to vote to lay such subjects on the table.

He now moved to lay this one on the table.

Mr. Abbott confessed to a recollection of having said something to Mr. Durham on the subject, the purport of which was, that the best thing that could be done with such matters was to lay them on the table. He did not intend to convey the belief that every Republican member would go by his (Abbott's) idea in the premises.

Mr. McDonald, of Chatham, read the dispatches from Florida in the morning papers, and stated that the Convention in that State had come to a dead halt on the same subject.

Mr. Pool, of Pasquotank, said he would make a motion to recommit to the committee for further investigation, if Mr. Durham would accept the motion. (A Radical admission of the insufficiency of the testimony. We admire Mr. Pool's candor.)

Mr. Durham refused to accept the proposition, and said the Republican members ought to stand by their agreement.

The motion to lay on the table was put and lost.

Harris, nigger, of Wake, said that in the early part of the session of the Convention a resolution had been passed providing that no business of an unimportant nature should be considered before the important business of the Convention had been finished. Something should be done to prevent erroneous reports from being put out. He wanted to see justice done, and if the seat of a Republican member was contested, he would vote for its investigation as quick as he would that of a Conservative member, and he hoped something would be done to prevent erroneous reports from being spread. He asked that the resolution be read.

Mr. Pool renewed his motion to recommit.

Harris, nigger, of Wake, magnanimously concurred.

Mr. Durham moved to amend the motion by instructing the committee to send for persons and papers to investigate the matter.

The motion was put and prevailed.

Mr. Pool submitted a report from the Committee on Enrollment, which was adopted.

Mr. Jones—not the lean, lank, legal individual from Washington, but plain "Mistur Jones" of Caldwell—submitted a report from the Committee on Homesteads, in regard to an ordinance for the relief of the people.

The committee reported adversely, and begged to be discharged. Their report was accepted, and the committee discharged.

Mr. Rodman submitted a report from the Judiciary Committee. Ordered to be printed and made the special order for 11 o'clock Tuesday next.

Leave of absence was here granted Mr. McCubbins and Drs. Holt and Baker.

RESOLUTIONS, &C.

Mr. Sweet offered a resolution providing that all reports of committees embracing constitutional propositions, be read three separate times—the second time for consideration, and the third time as a final reading. Adopted.

Mr. Bradley, an ordinance in favor of the sheriff of Alleghany county. Laid over.

Mr. Congleton moved to have a certain matter introduced by him yesterday referred to a committee of five. Adopted.

SPECIAL ORDER.

The Bill of Rights being the special order,

Mr. Heaton moved to take it by sections.—Carried.

Section 1st being read,

Mr. Heaton moved to amend by inserting between the words "are" and "endowed" in the second line, the words "created equal, that they are."

Mr. Tourgee moved to amend further by striking out "that we hold it to be self-evident" in first line, and in second line strike out "are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights," and insert "are created free and equal in rights, certain of which are inalienable."

Mr. Abbott opposed Mr. Tourgee's amendment, saying that he would vote for Mr. Heaton's.

Hood, (nigger,) of Cumberland, replied to Mr. Jones, of Washington, who had opposed Mr. Heaton's amendment, saying that no one born under the Constitution of the U. States could be born a slave.

Mr. May said the matter was so plain that he could not see the necessity of so much argument. He discussed the motion at some length.

Mr. Ashley (old pilgrim) was opposed to innovations in this particular. He said that there was no essential difference in the formation of the language, and besides, theology was being run into politics. (What does this old hypocrite know of either theology or politics. His politics and his theology are both matters of dollars and cents.)

Mr. Nicholson offered the following substitute to cover the whole ground:

"That all men are born free and equal in natural rights. Some of these rights are inalienable, and among them the rights to life, to liberty, to property, and to the pursuit of happiness, none of which can be rightfully surrendered or taken away, or abridged in respect to any person, except in such measure as may be necessary to reconcile them with the equal rights of others, or in punishment for crime."

Harris, of Wake, nigger, said that nothing had been further from his thoughts than the idea that the committee's report would be opposed. He was sorry to see any opposition. He referred to the wise men of Greece, and said that there was one as wise to be found in North Carolina, the delegate from Washington, Mr. Jones. He hoped the report would not be picked to pieces to please the fancies of some of the members.

Mr. Abbott opposed any alteration of the report. He preferred the phrase used in the report to any other that might be brought up, and believed it had the whole meaning, "that all men are created equal." It had been the leading star of the country for years.

Mr. Sweet said all these amendments had a tendency to show what a fool Thomas Jefferson was in forming such phraseology, as is embodied in the Declaration of Independence.

Mr. Jones, of Washington, was in favor of Mr. Nicholson's amendment, and said he didn't belong to the stand-still party—he was for progress.

Mr. Tourgee favored the acceptance of Mr. Nicholson's substitute, and hoped it would be adopted.

Mr. Heaton hoped the report would be adopted with his amendment incorporated, while the constitutions of other States were not the same in words, yet their significance were the same.

Harris, nigger, of Wake, called for the previous question, and the motioned was sustained.

The previous question recurred on Mr. Nicholson's substituted.

Mr. Tourgee called for the yeas and nayes, which resulted—yeas, 10; nays, 84.

Mr. Heaton then called for the question on his amendment.

Mr. Tourgee objected, and called for the decision of the Chair. The house refused to sustain the Chair's decision.

The question then recurred on Mr. Heaton's amendment, and after a vote, decided in the affirmative.

Mr. Heaton then moved to substitute the word "unalienable" instead of "inalienable," which was adopted.

He then moved to amend farther by striking out the word "which" and insert the word "these," and in third line insert the word "that" between the words "rights" and "among," but was called to order by Mr. Tourgee, as the previous question had been called. He called for the decision of the Chair, and was sustained by the Chair.

Mr. Heaton then appealed to the decision of the house, and the house sustained him, and the amendment was adopted.

Mr. Graham, of Orange, moved to amend by adding to the end of the section the following:

"But marriage between white persons and colored persons is forever prohibited."

The Chair decided Mr. Graham's amendment out of order, and the section as amended was adopted.

Manager Cowles here stated that he had been advised of the coming of a rival "show," which would reach this city on Monday next, and that the trained animals of his menagerie might sufficiently recuperate their energies to compete with these new objects of popular curiosity, (which the amiable Gorilla from Chatham assured him they could easily do in two days on a diet of "gubers, gingerbread and candy"), the exhibition of the "Great-Congressional-Kangaroo Collection," would close until 10 o'clock on Monday next, when he hoped to be able to present for the public entertainment a sensational performance in Natural History. What he meant by a performance in Natural History was, that "every time the Baboon jumped 'clar' over the Zebra, TOURGEE would hold his tail up."

Report of the Standing Committee on Preamble and Bill of Rights.

PREAMBLE.

We, the people of the State of North Carolina, grateful to Almighty God, the Sovereign Ruler of Nations, for the preservation of the American Union, and the existence of our civil, political, and religious liberties, and acknowledging our dependence upon Him for the continuance of those blessings to us and our posterity, do, for the more certain security thereof, and for the better government of this State, ordain and establish this Constitution:

ARTICLE I.

DECLARATION OF RIGHTS.

That the general, great and essential principles of liberty and free government may be recognized and established, and that the relations of this State to the Union and government of the United States, and those of the people of the State to the rest of the American people, may be defined and affirmed, we do declare—

SECTION 1. That we hold it to be self-evident that all men are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights, among which are life, liberty, the enjoyment of the fruits of their own labor, and the pursuit of happiness.

SEC. 2. That all political power is vested in and derived from the people; that all government of right originates from the people, is founded upon their will only, and is instituted solely for the benefit of the whole.

SEC. 3. That the people of this State have the inherent, sole, and exclusive right of regulating the internal government and police thereof, and of altering and abolishing their Constitution and form of government, whenever it may be necessary to their safety and happiness; but every such right should be exercised in pursuance of law, and consistently with the Constitution of the United States.

SEC. 4. That this State shall ever remain a member of the American Union; that the people thereof are part of the American nation; that there is no right on the part of this State to secede, and that all attempts, from whatever source or upon whatever pretext, to dissolve said Union, or to sever said nation, ought to be resisted with the whole power of the State.

SEC. 5. That every citizen of this State owes paramount allegiance to the Constitution and government of the United States, and that no ordinance or law of the State, in contravention or subversion thereof, can have any binding force.

SEC. 6. To maintain the honor and good faith of the State untarnished, the public debt regularly contracted before and since the rebellion shall be regarded as inviolable and never questioned; but the State shall never assume or pay any debt or obligation, express or implied, incurred in aid of insurrection or rebellion against the United States, or any claim for the loss or emancipation of any slave.

SEC. 7. No man or set of men are entitled to exclusive or separate emoluments or privileges from the community but in consideration of public services.

SEC. 8. The legislative, executive, and supreme judicial powers of government ought to be forever separate and distinct from each other.

SEC. 9. All power of suspending laws, or the execution of laws, by any authority, without the consent of the representatives of the people, is injurious to their rights, and ought not to be exercised.

SEC. 10. All elections ought to be free.

SEC. 11. In all criminal prosecutions, every man has a right to be informed of the accusation against him, and to confront the accusers and witnesses with other testimony, and to have counsel for his defence, and shall not be compelled to give evidence against himself.

SEC. 12. No person shall be put to answer any criminal charge, except as hereinafter allowed, but by indictment, presentment, or impeachment.

SEC. 13. No person shall be convicted of any crime, but by the unanimous verdict of a jury of good and lawful men, in open court. The Legislature may, however, provide other modes of trial for petty misdemeanors, with the right of appeal.

SEC. 14. Excessive bail should not be required, nor excessive fines imposed, nor cruel, nor unusual punishments inflicted.

SEC. 15. General warrants, whereby any officer or messenger may be commanded to search suspected places without evidence of the fact committed, or to seize any person or persons not named, whose offence is not particularly described and supported by evidence, are dangerous to liberty, and ought not to be granted.

SEC. 16. No person ought to be taken, imprisoned, or disseized of his freehold, liberties, or privileges, or out-lawed, or exiled, or in any manner destroyed, or deprived of his life, liberty, or property, but by the law of the land.

SEC. 17. Every person, restrained of his liberty, is entitled to a remedy to inquire into the lawfulness thereof, and to remove the same, if unlawful, and such remedy ought not to be denied or delayed.

SEC. 18. In all controversies at law respecting property, the ancient mode of trial by jury is one of the best securities of the rights of the people, and ought to remain sacred and inviolable.

SEC. 19. The freedom of the press is one of the great bulwarks of liberty, and therefore ought never to be restrained.

SEC. 20. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended in this State.

SEC. 21. The people of this State ought not to be taxed or made subject to the payment of any impost or duty, without the consent of themselves, or their representatives in General Assembly, freely given.

SEC. 22. The people have a right to bear arms for the defence of the State; and, as standing armies in time of peace are dangerous to liberty, they ought not to be kept up; and the military should be kept under strict subordination to, and governed by, the civil power.

SEC. 23. The people have a right to assemble together to consult for their common good, to instruct their representatives, and to apply to the legislature for redress of grievances.

SEC. 24. All men have a natural and inalienable right to worship Almighty God according to the dictates of their own consciences; that no human authority can, in any case, whatever, control or interfere with the rights of conscience.

SEC. 25. For redress of grievances, and for amending and strengthening the laws, elections ought to be often held.

SEC. 26. A frequent recurrence to fundamental principles is absolutely necessary to preserve the blessings of liberty.

SEC. 27. No hereditary emoluments, privileges, or honors, ought to be granted or conferred in this State.

SEC. 28. Perpetuities and monopolies are contrary to the genius of a free State, and ought not to be allowed.

SEC. 29. Retrospective laws, punishing facts committed before the existence of such laws, and by them only declared criminal, are oppressive, unjust, and incompatible with liberty; wherefore, no ex post facto law ought to be made.

SEC. 30. Slavery and involuntary servitude otherwise than for crimes, whereof the parties shall have been duly convicted, shall be, and is hereby forever prohibited within this State.

SEC. 31. The limits and boundaries of the State shall be and remain as they now are.

SEC. 32. All courts shall be open, and every person, for an injury done him in his lands, goods, person or reputation, shall have remedy by due course of law, and right and justice administered without sale, denial or delay.

SEC. 33. No soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war, but in a manner to be prescribed by law.

SEC. 34. This enumeration of rights shall not be construed to impair or deny others retained by the people, and all powers not herein delegated, remain with the people.

OUR MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.

Senate—No session.

House—Entire day devoted to speeches.

Washington Items.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.

The Reconstruction Committee had a stormy session, but did nothing pointed.

Mr. Beck, of Ky., has been added to the subcommittee on the President's alleged violation of law in forbidding Grant to obey Stanton. Grant will be the first witness.

The Evening's Express says: "The feeling among the majority of the committee is undoubtedly in favor of impeachment, and there is reason to believe that a resolution to this effect will will shortly be reported to the House."

Before adjourning to-day the Committee agreed to report a bill to remove the political disabilities imposed by the reconstruction acts, of Gov. Holden of N. C., Gov. Orr, of S. C., and of Gen. Longstreet, of the late C. S. A. It is reported that Mr. Brooks moved to add the name of Gen. Beauregard, but the committee refused to include him.

A committee from Cleaveland, Ohio, is coming here to secure the meeting of the National Democratic Convention in that city.

The sub committee of the Reconstruction committee have the power to send for papers and persons. Among those summoned are Grant, Stanton, members of the Cabinet, J. B. Stillson of the N. Y. World, and two members of Grant's staff. Grant failed to appear this afternoon and Stillson was examined.

Gen. Banks is sick.

S. M. McKean, for fifty years a disbursing clerk in Treasury Department, is dead.

Virginia Convention.

RICHMOND, Feb. 8.

The section authorizing the Legislature to create the Bureau of agriculture and immigration was adopted. A long debate occurred on the immigration part of the section, which was both urged and opposed by the Radical side. A Conservative urged that legislation barring immigration, because of antagonism between laborers of the two races was calculated to lead to a war of races. A nigger delegate replied that if such a war came, it would never be inaugurated by the blacks.

THE

NORTH CAROLINIAN,

A DAILY,

Democratic Newspaper,

PUBLISHED AT

RALEIGH, N. C.

W. A. HEARNE, JOHN W. DUNHAM,

EDITORS.

The NORTH CAROLINIAN is Democratic in its principles. It is unalterably opposed to Negro Suffrage, Military rule, and Reconstruction upon the basis of Congressional enactment. Its Editors believe and teach that this is a

WHITE MAN'S GOVERNMENT,

FRAMED BY THE BRAINS, AND

WON BY THE BLOOD OF WHITE MEN,

FOR THE BENEFIT OF WHITE MEN,

AND THAT IT SHOULD BE

CONTROLLED BY WHITE MEN ONLY.

As there is but ONE NATIONAL ORGANIZATION professing these sentiments and committed to their maintenance, the NORTH CAROLINIAN will steadily advocate the abandonment of all other party names and organizations, and yield a hearty co-operation with that organization—the NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

THE NORTH CAROLINIAN,

Will contain the freshest News, by telegraph and otherwise. Full reports of all Legislative Assemblies will be furnished its readers.

Particular attention will be paid to State news, and each number will contain a complete epitome of every incident reported in the State press.

MARKETS will be carefully reported.

The Weekly North Carolinian

Is the largest and handsomest paper in the State and will be filled with choice family reading and selected literary matter.

THE GREAT FIRE IN NORFOLK.

We learned by telegraph on Saturday that the city of Norfolk had been again scourged by fire, and that among the buildings burned were the telegraph office and the office of the Norfolk Journal. The Day Book of Saturday gave us full particulars of the fire, the amount of property destroyed, and the losses sustained by the dwellers in the City-by-the-Sea.

The fire originated in a row of frame buildings occupied respectively by the Union Telegraph Company, Chas. E. Rice, Sam'l R. Borum, J. P. Jordan, J. Richard Lewellen, Merchants and Mechanic's Exchange, T. T. Jones, Norfolk Journal, A. E. Smith, F. F. Furguson and W. G. Webber; and despite the efforts of the firemen, consumed the upper stories of the entire row, the character of the buildings making good food for the flames. Much damage was done to the material of the telegraph and printing offices, by careless handling and water.

It gives us pleasure to learn that the property was generally insured. We would be sincerely sorry to learn of any hindrance to the prosperity of so generous, liberal and large-hearted a people as those of Norfolk. We regret the necessity for even a temporary suspension of so reliable and able a paper as the Norfolk Journal, but the pluck and energy of Col. Lewellen, aided by his willing people will soon put our contemporary afloat again.

THE CONVENTION (SO-CALLED.)

The Convention was engaged, all Saturday, on the reports of the Committee of Privileges and Elections, recommending that J. M. Marshall be declared entitled to the seat held by J. G. Marler, Esq., and that L. D.Hall be admitted to the seat held by Mr. A. Williams, of Sampson, and in discussion upon the first section of the Bill of Rights. We shall probably have something to say in regard to the first of these matters at some future time. Our readers are referred to the report for the action taken by the Convention.

NEWS FOR THE LOYAL!

The Reconstruction Committee has agreed to report a bill to remove the political disabilities which our illustrious Ex. P. G. incurred by his playful little act with a pen, which has become historical. There was joy in the Radical wigwam when the announcement was made. We wonder if anybody has gubernatorial aspirations, and if this move has been made to enable them to gratify said desires.

CITY AND STATE.

Another Menagerie Coming.—The New Sensation.

We have the prodigious pleasure and gigantic satisfaction of announcing to the public and the Zebras and Kangaroos, now performing at the Capitol, that the great combination Circus and Menagerie of Barnum, Van Amburgh, Castello & Co., "have arrove," and will exhibit this afternoon, under one canvass for one price of admission, their wonderful specimens of rare and beautiful wild "animiles," birds and reptiles collected at the expenses of the largest energy, indefatigable research and the most marvellous outlay of money, from all parts of the world.

One of the most interesting features of the exhibition this afternoon, will be the performance of the educated Russian horse, "Czar," whose profound knowledge of parliamentary rules makes him the peer of Manager Cowles of the Congo, Congressional, Reconstruction Ring, and by way of displaying his extraordinary Constitutional abilities, he will offer numerous "resolutions of relief" to the "people"—a la Johnny McDonald of Chatham.

"Artemus Ward," the "mule" parliamentarian, will also propose a resolution, we hear, counter to that famous one introduced at the Capitol the other day by Eppes, ebo shin, from Halifax. Eppes' resolution, if we remember rightly, was: "That real estate shall be taxed in accordance to its value throughout the State; and that horses, mules, oxen, and other horned cattle be taxed for half their value—except stallions and jackasses, which shall be taxed at full value."

The resolution of A. Ward, Mule, proposes, we understand, to lay a double tax on stallions and jackasses, and exempts "horses, mules, oxen, and other horned cattle," which would have the effect, should the bill pass, to throw the whole burthen of taxation on the Eppes cattle.

As a finale to the afternoon performance, a large living lion will appear on an elevated platform in the ring, loose, unchained, untrammeled and free, yet none of our readers need fear to attend the exhibition on that account, for very like another lion of the Capitol museum—the roaring, North American TOURGEE, from Guilford,

As horrid a lion,
As e'er we set eye on—

he is very docile except when irritated, and then not very ferocious.

Zoologically Manager Cowles' collection unquestionably beats the world, but ornothologically and as a circus, the Grand Combination of Barnum, Van Amburgh, Castello & Co. eclipses anything in the "show" line ever seen in this country.

Of course "everybody and his wife" will go,

The Blessed Influence of the Bureau.

During the session of the Criminal Court for the county of New Hanover, held last week, fifteen negroes were convicted of larceny and sentenced to fine and imprisonment. At the same term three white men were convicted of the same offence and subjected to similar punishment.—The "spiritual" condition of the negro exhibits such marked evidences of improvement under the benign teachings of the Bureau—see letter of Brevet Major General Miles, Assistant Commissioner, &c., to Gen. O. O. Howard—that we shall be compelled to accord it wonderful efficiency as a scheme for teaching the "wards of the nation," that commandment which says: "Thou shalt not steal." The only difficulty we have discovered is, that the pious teachers connected with the "institution," have not been able to convince their hearers that the little word not was in the commandment.

"Daily Press."

We are requested to state that the Daily Press of this city will in future be issued as an evening paper.

Mr. David McRae, a Scotch author, now making a tour of the South, has proved himself a benefactor to the poor of Wilmington. He recently delivered a reading, consisting of selections from his works, in that city, devoting the proceeds to the alleviation of their distresses. At the request of the Library Association he has consented to repeat the lecture for the same generous and philanthropic purpose.

The North Carolina Military and Polytechnic School, located at Hillsboro, and of which Gen. R. E. Colston is principal, began a new session on Wednesday last, with an increased number of students in attendance. We gladly notice such evidences of a proper understanding of the importance of an education among our people.

Three of the prisoners who recently escaped from the Goldsboro' jail have been recaptured. The murderer, one of the horse thieves and the negro confined for larceny were retaken. They were arrested by F. M. Morris, Chas. Isler, Allen Lee and Daniel Simmons, negroes, and returned to jail. All praise to the captors!

The Warrenton Indicator announces the death of Mrs. Allston, wife of Maj. Archibald Allston, of Warren. Mrs. Allston, in attempting to save a child from falling, approached too near the fire and her dress caught. Her person was speedily enveloped in flames. She died at 10 o'clock that night, after suffering for several hours the most intense agony.

Wm. Wright Parker, who was convicted of murder in the Criminal Court of New Hanover, and whose case was taken to the Supreme Court for revision, was sentenced to be hanged on Friday, the Supreme Court having sustained the rulings of Judge Meares.

A tract of land in Surry county, containing about 214 acres, was recently sold at a bankrupt's sale, and brought only forty cents an acre.

Her Britannic Majesty, we are told by a cable dispatch, has addressed a letter to the Governor of Jamaica, advising him "that henceforward all responsible offices in the island will be filled from England."

This, says the Fredericksburg News, is England's confession, after more than thirty years of effort to educate and prepare for self-government the emancipated blacks of Jamaica, that the negroes are not fit to rule.

ROSADALIS WILL CURE THE WORST CASES OF SCROFULA. READ THE STATEMENT BELOW, AND DESPAIR NOT.

WILSON COUNTY, Sept. 10, 1867.

DR. J. J. LAWRENCE:

Dear Sir—My youngest daughter, aged five years, has been dreadfully afflicted with Scrofula nearly all her life. I tried a great many Physicians, but without relieving her much; in fact, most of them said there was no hope of cure.—During the last Spring she was worse than ever, her body and limbs being covered with sores and blotches—with face and eyes badly ulcerated and swollen. Whilst in this condition, I was advised by Dr. L. A. Stith to try your Rosadalis. I at once procured three bottles, and commenced giving it to her. The effect was magical. In less than a month, to my great astonishment, she was entirely well.

I am, sir,
Yours, with respect and gratitude,
W. W. BURNETT.

ROSADALIS CURES ALL SKIN DISEASES.

WILSON, N. C., Sept. 15, 1867.

DR. LAWRENCE—Dear Sir:—In 1862 my son, now aged five years, was vaccinated with what proved to be impure matter, which completely destroyed his health. He has been afflicted with an inveterate and extremely troublesome Eruption of the Skin, sometimes breaking out in sores, &c. Rosadalis was prescribed by my family physician—Dr. A. D. Moore. After taking it a few weeks, my son became and remains entirely well.

Yours truly,
J. B. DANIEL.

CHRONIC LIVER COMPLAINT CURED.

This is to certify that I was cured of Chronic Liver Complaint by Dr. Lawrence's Rosadalis, after having been confined to my bed and house for a long time, and trying various medicines without benefit.

I know of several others in this County, cured through the use of the Rosadalis, and it can be found in nearly every house in my neighborhood, and they all praise it as a great medicine.

40 YEARS.

DEEMS' Southern Hepatic Pills, are made and sold by the discoverer, that old and well-tried remedy for all diseases caused by DISEASED LIVER, which is attended with all the symptoms of Consumptions. In 1825 the Discoverer was reduced to a mere skeleton, and was pronounced by three of the most skillful physicians of one of our largest cities, to be in an advanced stage of Consumption, and beyond cure. He then began to try experiments on himself, and after many efforts discovered (by the help of an Indian) the remedy which wrought in him a perfect cure. He is now in the 78th year of his age, and at this advanced stage of life retains an excellent constitution. In 32 years itinerating in the ministry, he has seen more than a thousand persons, who were given up to die of Consumption as beyond cure, dragging out a miserable existence, not knowing what ailed them, they were cured by these Hepatic Pills, and afterwards enjoyed the most perfect health.

There is in these Pills a peculiar combination with an article which has probably never before been used as a medicine. They are highly strengthening, and mild in their action on the bowels. In the preparation of these very superior and excellent Pills, no cost or trouble is spared to insure the greatest possible degree of perfection, in point of utility, excellence and comfort; the advantage in these Pills, therefore, is that a cure must be radical and complete, without the necessity of incorporating such drugs into our Pills as to break down the system in one part to remove the disease in another, and leave the patient to groan under worse diseases than heretofore. Where these Pills are known, especially in the Southern States, where they have been used so extensively, they need no recommendation, their merits are so well known by their results, which has given them a reputation that has brought them into great demand. They are therefore destined to be, at no distant day, the only remedy recognized and used by the people where billious diseases are so prevalent.

They can be sent to any point in the United States by mail or express.

Price:—25 cents per box, $2 50 per doz. By the gross, $18. The cash must either accompany the order for the Medicine, or it will be sent C. O. D. Address

[From the Land We Love.]

A Portrait.

BY DR. J. DICKSON BURNS, NEW ORLEANS, LA.

All beauteous things have lent their grace
To make the sweetness of her face.

The light of Autum's richest dyes
Swims in the depths of her brown eyes,

And all its sunset's golden air
Is tangled in her waving hair.

The laden bee might stoop to sip
The rose's heart that stains her lip;

But, fainter flushed, her cheek and brow
Blush with the budding hawthorn's snow.

In the clear music of her voice
A thousand purling streams rejoice,

As sweet as when through summer hours
They babble of the brimming showers,

And down the happy vales are sent
The murmurs of their full content.

Like clouds that fleck the morning sky
She sweeps in airy fleetness by,

And who that sees but turns to bless
A vision of such loveliness.

It seems a glorious angel given
To woo our straying steps to heaven.

But O, I think, if e'er as wife
She wears the marriage ring of life,

And all her being, bright and good,
Rounds to a perfect womanhood:

In those blest Courts where she would move
The matchless minister of Love,

Beneath the purple of her throne
This earth and heaven would seem but one.

The Louisville Journal on Grant.

The Louisville Journal has a severe criticism on General Grant's military record. It says he was "ignominiously defeated" at Belmont; "awfully whipped" at Shiloh, and would have been annihilated but for an event which he had no right to expect; and that at Vicksburg he expended more money, time and life, than were ever before sacrificed in taking so small a town. As to the Virginia campaign we quote:

We think that the whole country understands the truth that Grant's march from Washington towards Richmond in the face of General Lee was one of the most disastrous campaigns ever undertaken. He was brave, or rather obstinate enough. He would, whenever and wherever Lee chose to stop and throw up battle-works, advance and attack him, at a terrible expenditure of life, and in every case he was repulsed. And at each repulse he would move his army round, make a flank movement, giving another disastrous battle, getting another most bloody repulse, and then going again into the flanking business. At last he got to City Point on James river, after losing a hundred thousand men. There he stopped.—There he squatted. He didn't propose to do any thing. He said that he would "fight it out on that line though it should take him all the summer," but his fighting was simply squatting.—There wasn't the first sign of aggression about him.

The senior editor of the Journal was in Richmond in the winter of 1865, and we know that the Confederate officers, soldiers, and citizens had no more apprehension of Grant than if he had been on the other side of the ocean. His proximity didn't keep a man or woman awake a single minute. He was held in contempt. The whole terror was in regard to the march of Sherman. And it was Sherman's march, and only that, which conquered Lee's army and all the other Confederate armies.

The Providence Press tells the following good story, which should convey its own moral:

"A member of the General Assembly from a 'rural district', who is something of a wag, approached one of the officers of the House, and with a very serious looking countenance and subdued voice stated that he was, both as a Representative and a man, in a serious difficulty. The official gravely inquired the cause. The troubled member replied that he was under the necessity of being absent for three days. 'Oh, well,' replied the official, 'that is nothing; it's a common occurrence.' 'But,' said the disconsolate one, 'that ain't exactly what's the matter. Ye see, I've heard that member speak every day, and a great many times a day, and I've kinder got used to it. It's as natural as hash for breakfast; I shall miss it if I go; and see here'—taking the official by the button-hole—'d'ye think he'll have wind enough to hold out till I come back, for I do want to her him once more.'"

The Louisville Journal says: The Radical party is now digging its own grave. And it must be owned that the job could not have been given to a more persevering digger. It has got quite deep enough, but it keeps on furiously digging. From the way it digs, one would infer that its motto is that of the desperate oil-borer in the mountains of Pennsylvania—"Hell or China!"

Concerning "hollering" in meeting, Aunt Judy, an old colored woman, said to one of her sisters: "'Taint de rale grace, honey; 'taint de sure glory. When you gits de dove in your heart and de lamb in your bosom, you'll feel as if you was in dat stable at Bethl'em, and de blessed Virgin had lent you de sleepin' baby to hold."

The last poetical effort of Halleck was a little epigrammatic quatrain, which he handed to Mr. Fred. S. Cozzens one day:

"All honor to woman, the sweetheart, the wife,
The delight of the fireside, by night and by day,
Who never does anything wrong in her life,
Except when permitted to have her own way."

The Tribune said the other day:

"They have been hanging of late years pretty vigorously in Pennsylvania. We do not know a State in which the halter has a fairer swing." The Boston Post replied: "That is the reason the Democrats have gained a majority in Pennsylvania, we suppose."

Being unable to find the place where a prayer meeting was to be held, a lady stepped up to a member of the legal profession, and very politely inquired, "Mr. ——, will you please tell me where the prayer meeting is held this afternoon?" The lawyer, looking every way for escape, finally stammered out, "Madame, I give it up. You'd better try some other profession."

One who had espoused an old and ill-tempered, but extremely rich wife, used to say, "Whenever I find my temper giving way, I retire to my study, and console myself by reading her marriage settlement."

Men, in looking at the faults of women, should shut their eyes.

PLAN OF ORGANIZATION OF THE CONSERVATIVE PARTY OF NORTH CAROLINA.

STATE ORGANIZATION.

A State Committee, to consist of a chairman and thirty members—six of whom shall reside in Raleigh and three in each judicial district—to be appointed by the State Convention.

The committee shall have power to maintain its organization by filling vacancies, &c., and shall take charge of all matters relating to organization, registrations, &c., and a proper canvass of the State.

DISTRICT ORGANIZATION.

The members of the State Committee in each judicial district shall constitute a district Committee for their respective districts and shall appoint a Chairman, and shall take charge of all matters relating to county organization, &c., in their respective districts; and shall report all matters relating thereto, to the Chairman of the State Committee.

COUNTY ORGANIZATION.

It is recommended that each County, by popular meetings or through the medium of existing organization, appoint a County Committee, to consist of at least two persons from each Captain's District within its limits.

The County Committee shall take charge of all matters of registration, local organization, &c., within the County, and is requested to make monthly reports to the Chairman of the District Committee, and when necessary, to inform him of such local matters as may require the attention of the District Committee.

It is further recommended that each County Committee cause to be enrolled the names of all the registered voters of their county, who are willing to act and vote with this organization—no man to be thus enrolled without his express consent; and, also, that they cause to be enrolled on a separate list the names of all those who are entitled to register, but who have not done so, and that they use every exertion to secure their registration and active co-operation.

PLATFORM.

The Conservative people of North Carolina, having by their delegates assembled in Convention at Raleigh, on the 5th of February, 1868, to consider the present anomalous condition of the State, and of the country, and to consult together upon the grievances which now afflict and threaten them, and the course of action proper to be adopted in the trying circumstances which surround them, do resolve and declare

1. Our unalterable devotion to the principles of Constitutional liberty, and our fealty to the government of the United States, as set forth in the Federal Constitution. That we sincerely and in good faith accept the legitimate and legal results of the late war, and do hereby reiterate our oft repeated declaration, that we most heartily desire peace and concord with our sister States, and with the entire people of the United States.

2. Resolved, That regarding the Constitution of the United States as the source of all power in the administration of the government, and that the powers of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial department are equal and co-ordinate, as defined by that instrument, we do respectfully and solemnly protest against the enforcement upon our people, of the Reconstruction Acts, and policy of Congress, as unconstitutional, unwise and destructive to society, and violative of that great principle of American politics, that each State shall have the exclusive control of its own internal offices.

3. Resolved, That it is the opinion of this Convention that the great and all absorbing issue, now soon to be presented to the people of the State, is negro suffrage and negro equality, if not supremacy, and whether hereafter in North Carolina and the South, the white man is to be placed politically and, as a consequence, socially, upon a footing of equality with the negro, and, in many localities, subject to his government as a superior. That we are utterly opposed to such change in our government and in our social relations, and that we do hereby earnestly recommend to the people of the State to manfully meet the issue now attempted to be forced upon them, and to use every proper measure within their power to avert the impending mischief.

4. Resolved, That while we are unalterably opposed to political and social equality with the black race, we yet have no unjust prejudicies against that race, that we are determined, by just laws, to protect them fully in all their civil rights, and to confer upon them all privileges which can be done consistently with the safety and welfare of both races.

5. Resolved, That the distressed and impoverished condition of our people earnestly demands the speediest and wisest measures of relief that the Legislature can devise.

6. Resolved, That this Convention recognizes, with feelings of gratitude, the heroic and patriotic efforts of the President of the United States, to restore the Union and harmony and good will among the American people.

7. Resolved, That this Convention regards the Supreme Court of the United States as the legitimate expounder in the last resort of the Constitution—and believe that its rights and powers, in that respect, should be preserved intact as established by law in the earlier and better days of the republic, and that any serious impairment thereof, by legislation or otherwise, will be destructive to the best interests of the country, and dangerous to the liberties of the people.

8. Resolved, That despairing of any restoration of the Southern States under the conduct of that organization which now controls the proceedings of Congress, waiving all former party feeling and prejudice, this Convention does most unhesitatingly recommend and invite the hearty co-operation of all the good people of North Carolina with the Democrats, and Conservative men of the North and West, who are now nobly struggling for the maintenance of the Constitution of the United States, and the restoration of the Southern States to their rights in the Union, on the solid foundation of harmony and peace.

9. Resolved, That this Convention elect four delegates and four alternates for the State at large, to represent the conservative people of North Carolina in the next Democratic National Convention, and that it recommend to the conservative people of the several Congressional Districts, to appoint delegates at an early day to represent them in said Convention.

10. Resolved, That when an election shall be ordered for the ratification of a new State Constitution, the Executive Committee for the State, hereafter to be appointed by this Convention, be instructed, if the time shall be sufficient to call a Convention of the Conservative people of the State, to put in nomination candidates for the various State offices whose election shall then be ordered, and if there shall not be sufficient time to call said Convention, to put in nomination sound Conservative men for said office.

MISCELLANEOUS.

NOTICE TO SHIPPERS OF SPIRITS OF TURPENTINE.

The Seaboard Inland Air Line, Via Portsmouth, Va., is now prepared to ship Spirits Turpentine to Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, its steamers having been arranged for that purpose.

This Air Line Route, from the fact of its avoiding transshipment from one Steamer to another, to which other lines are subject, and being the direct line between the Carolinas and the Northern Cities, with daily communication to Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, and to Boston a Steamer every five days, offers great facilities for shipping, and is in advance of all other routes from three to five days and at as low rates.

In shipping from the Northern Cities, or from Carolina, be careful to ship via Portsmouth, and by the Steamship Lines connecting with and forming part of this Route.

From Boston, Merchants and Miner's Line, E. Sampson, Agent, end Central Wharf.

From New York, Old Dominion Steamship Company, Pier 37, North river, M. L. McCready President, Office 187 Greenwich street.

From Philadelphia, Clyde Steamers, 14 South Delaware Avenue, W. P. Clyde, Agent.

Annamessic Line, Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Depot, J. L. Wilson, Agent.

All claims for loss, damage, or overcharge, promptly settled by applying to
JAS. MCCARRICK, Trace Agent,
Seaboard Inland Air Line, Portsmouth, Va.

The Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad and Bay Line, having been consolidated under one Management from Weldon to Baltimore, offer greater facilities to shippers of freight to and from Baltimore than any other line, and guarantees safety of freight and prompt settlement of all claims.

LATEST NEWS TO THE FARMERS OF North Carolina.

Your attention is called to my large stock of Agricultural Implements, Iron Steel, &c., &c.

Corn and Cotton Planters, Corn Shellers,
Hay, Shuck and Corn Stalk Cutters, Fan Mills, Plows, of every kind, Harrows and Cultivators, Spades, Shovels
Forks, Brier Hooks,
Iron Axles, Springs,
Cart & Wagon Boxes, &c.

I call particular attention to BILLUP'S CENTREBOARD COTTON SCRAPER, and to BILLUP'S DIXIE PLOW. The first is warranted to be the best Scraper ever yet invented, and the Farmers are requested to test its merits in connection with any other kind. The Dixie Plow is freer from choking than any other yet made; will pass through the ground with less power, and do better work than any other kind. This is no vain boast. 'Tis easy to claim superiority; hence I ask a trial.

If Farmers are not satisfied, the money will be refunded.
